

Mr Hinrichs holds a master degree in agricultural economics from Humboldt University Berlin, Germany. In 2003, he joined an interdisciplinary researcher group on structural change and transition funded by the German Research Foundation. His research was focused on the development of econometric models to analyse the impact of risk and flexibility on investment behaviour in the livestock sector. In 2005, Mr Hinrichs was awarded a PhD in agricultural economics from Humboldt University Berlin, Germany.

Mr Hinrichs started his career as an Associate Professional Officer in the livestock information and policy branch of FAO Headquarters Rome in 2005. He has been responsible for the analysis of economic issues in the control of avian influenza. He is currently based in the FAO Regional Office for Asia and the Pacific and responsible for the integrated analysis of livestock value chains and disease transmission risks.
